GLOOMY PROSPECT.

The President's Condition Again Looks Decidedly Unfavorable.

He is Evidently on the eve of another crisis—He is unable to sit up—His Wound is Looking Badly again and Mind Wandering slightly at times.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

LONG BRANCH, Sept. 16.—(Official)—At the examination of the president at 8:30 this morning the temperature was 98.6, pulse, 104, respiration 20. The [illegible] during the night was not as pronounced [illegible]. There was at times considerable delirium [illegible]. He however slept comparatively well [illegible] of the pulse. Nourishment [illegible] and took stimulants and [illegible]. The cough was somewhat more troublesome [illegible] during the first part of the night and the expectoration more purulent. The discharge from the wound is less abundant, but not quite as healthy in appearance. The pulse has more volume and the general condition does not seem to have materially changed in any respect. Signed.

BLISS. HAMILTON.

A Slight Decline in Condition.

[illegible].—The situation this morning is less favorable [illegible] grave anxiety exists as to whether the [illegible] will be able to overcome the results of his [illegible]. Bed sores have again made their appearance, and the discharge from the wound is [illegible] unsatisfactory.

Grave Anxiety felt by MacVeagh.

[illegible] P. M.—The president's condition at this hour [illegible] unchanged—MacVeagh considers the case as [illegible] extreme anxiety, but maintains that there is no particular point which can be said to [illegible] developed to an alarming extent. The general condition, which includes extreme debility of the [illegible] unnecessarily causing grave apprehension.

The President unable to sit up.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—At the noon examination of [illegible] condition, the pulse was 114, temperature [illegible] At this hour the pulse is 108, [illegible] not much above normal. The patient [illegible] placed in the chair to-day on account of the [illegible].

Still no Improvement.

[illegible] P. M.—(Official).—At the examination of the [illegible] at 12 M. to-day, his temperature was 99.3, [illegible] respiration 21. At the evening dressing [illegible] P. M., the temperature was 98.6, pulse, 104, [illegible] A slight febrile rise occurred at 11 [illegible] subsided at 12:30 P. M. The [illegible] of the wound remains unchanged. His [illegible] has not been so frequent or persistent, but [illegible] still remains purulent. Nourishment and [illegible] have been given in increased quantities, [illegible] discomfort. Altogether, his general condition cannot be said to be improved. BLISS, HAMILTON, AGNEW.

A Bad Outlook.

[illegible] there are no new complications in the [illegible] case, his general condition indicates [illegible] has not made any gain during the past 48 [illegible] In fact there has been a slight falling off, [illegible] has assumed a more unhealthy appearance and the discharge has been growing more unsatisfactory since yesterday morning. Small bed [illegible] have again made their appearance. Dr. Boynton [illegible] still has hopes that the president will [illegible] pull through. His mind has been somewhat [illegible] during the day as well as during [illegible] and there is a continuance of suppuration of the parotid gland. On the whole the [illegible] is one of anxiety. Surgeons and attendants [illegible] express themselves in hopeful [illegible] It is stated that the perspiration which has [illegible] one of the annoying features in the president's [illegible] has reappeared. Rockwell and Swaim entertain [illegible] opinion, and declare it has not reached [illegible] is reliably asserted that the president's [illegible] reached 130 during the night, notwithstanding the fact that the febrile rise was not so [illegible] as usual.

More Fever.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—Dr. Ellis says there was a [illegible] commencing at 11 o'clock, which [illegible].

Loral's Regular Dispatch.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—There has been no very [illegible] change in the president's condition, but it [illegible] is not very reassuring. The different [illegible] are nearly all slightly aggravated. The [illegible] and pulse have fluctuated more than [illegible] and the respiration is rather more frequent, [illegible] the character of the discharge continues to be [illegible] There is, therefore, a sensible increase of anxiety.

MACVEAGH.

What Col. Swaim Thinks.

[illegible] thinks when the president has [illegible] bad days, each one adds a little to the preceding, and a gain in strength is manifest from time to time. [illegible] the weekly depressions of the [illegible] to the sympathy caused by the shock of [illegible] He does not think the president reflects [illegible] any more during the latter part of [illegible] during the fore part. When spoken [illegible] the indispositions of the president, Col. [illegible] the despondency and anxiety of many [illegible] continued to a [illegible] but were generally of brief duration, [illegible] believe the president will rally.

A Looks Gloomy.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—All specials from Long [illegible] of a gloomy character and express the [illegible] another crisis in the president's case is [illegible].

The "Lancet" gives its Opinion.

[illegible] 16.—The Lancet says the reason of [illegible] President Garfield's lungs is the [illegible] condition of congestion at their bases, [illegible] of impaired respiration arising from long [illegible] will probably give much [illegible] all signs of affection of the lungs [illegible] the hopeful prognosis constantly cabled. [illegible] not founded, although it may prove [illegible].

Expressions of Sympathy.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—The American Pomological Society [illegible] after adopting a resolution expressing [illegible] the attempt on the life of President [illegible] sympathy with himself and [illegible].

The Dantzic Conference.

[illegible] Sept. 16.—A Herald's St. Petersburg [illegible] says: As I have already informed you, the [illegible] of Dantzic, of convoking an European [illegible] to consider what measures could be [illegible] for the defense and to stamp out socialism [illegible] revolution. The following are [illegible] of the details of the discussion: It was pointed [illegible] that the international socialist movement [illegible] at present in Paris and that an [illegible] might therefore be made in Paris, [illegible] co-operation, England's adhesion [illegible] Bismarck, still but certain. Bismarck [illegible] is said to have added, "M. Grevy has, and [illegible] who would have any initiative in the matter [illegible] M. Gambetta." On this M. DeGiers [illegible] that Gambetta has already been unofficially [illegible] the subject by an agent of [illegible] and declared that under present circumstances [illegible] he should be forced to oppose the project, [illegible] replied, "Leave France to herself, then. [illegible] act without her. Before long she will be [illegible] to join us." This closed the first part of the [illegible] In course of conversation it was stated [illegible] that it was detected in carrying explosives [illegible] machines had lately been assassinated in Russia [illegible] arrangements for the interview were kept so [illegible] that even the Russian ambassador to Berlin [illegible] knew of them until they had actually been [illegible]. Emperor William in welcoming the [illegible] said that he trusted he [illegible] to live. Bismarck expressed himself in a similar [illegible] to the czar. The latter during the conversation [illegible] remarked that he was on more friendly [illegible] with the emperor of Austria and that he [illegible] long to be able to reduce his military [illegible]. Thanks to the interview it is believed that [illegible] relations of Russia and Germany are now quite [illegible] desirable as in the time of Alexander II.

Failure of Crops in Germany.

[illegible] U. S. commercial agent at Dusseldorf sends [illegible] from a carefully prepared report of the [illegible] minister of agriculture, by which it is [illegible] that the wheat crop is fully 20 per cent. less [illegible] the average crop, and 25 per cent. less than the [illegible]. In rye the falling off is from 25 to 30 [illegible]. All other crops are short from 10 to 15 [illegible] thirds, while the potato falling off is from one-half to [illegible] the last years, at the same time, so great [illegible] paule [illegible] peasants at Dusseldorf and [illegible] have come to the churches asking and [illegible] prayers for rain. Meteorological reports [illegible] April to July show only 1⅝ inches of rain fall [illegible] inches for the same period last year. Consul [illegible] Agent Wirner strongly advises the shipment [illegible] to the United States of the present [illegible] in quantities.

WASHINGTON CITY.

Troubles never come singly.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—A casket containing $6000 worth of jewelry, etc., which was entrusted to Senator Chaffee for keeping, was stolen from his room at the National hotel to-day.

The Potato Crop.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—Reports to the department of agriculture show a general average condition of the potato crop, September 1st, was 70—a decline of 22 per cent. since August 1st. Condition last September 90. A severe and protracted drought is the chief cause of the unfavorable outlook, though there are serious complaints in localities of insect injuries.

Invitation Accepted.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16.—The department of state learns that the invitation of the United States to representatives of Baron Steuben to attend the Yorktown centennial has been accepted with great appreciation by seven prominent officers of the German army.

A SOUND MIND IN A SOUND BODY.

PORTLAND, Sept. 16, 1881.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The question of what should be the proper limit of free school education has been much agitated, but it seems to me that a very important part of the problem is yet unsolved. While many support the ground taken by THE OREGONIAN that the "high" schools are positively injurious to the public, others crying "knowledge is power" as strongly uphold the system.

As there are often exceptions to a rule, so there is wrong in either course. We think there is neutral ground on which both sides can unite. Suppose a few of the almost useless text books be cast aside, and a system of training in gymnastics, calisthenics, and mechanical work be instituted instead. Then perhaps it could be arranged to admit those only into highest grades, who should pass a creditable examination as to physical and moral strength.

Let us not be misunderstood. We would not advance the training of muscles and body beyond that of the brain, but our country certainly ought to give her sons and daughters not only mental education—"book learning"—but also should confer the priceless gift of health and happiness. We all know the English and their descendants are by far the most perfect people in the world as regards the development of strength of brain and muscle. The force of English manners and education, united with endurance, dogged determination, and above all, splendid muscular powers, has gained for England the proud place of "mistress of the seas," and this will yet give to America control of the world. Anglo-Saxon moral courage has stood the test of nearly fifteen hundred years, and has given to this age much of its true knowledge and civilization. Anglo-Saxon physical courage, on many a bloody field in many a glorious victory, has won for the world and for us freedom of thought, speech and action.

In the repulse of the "invincible Spanish Armada," at the Nile and Trafalgar, at Waterloo, we were saved from absolute tyranny. Thus as the English language leads so does the English sword protect, in a great measure, the whole world. We do not refer to England only, but also to that great Anglo-American republic which has nearly the same language, customs and laws as the mother country. No individual can rightly use a strong brain without a strong body. We hold it to be self-evident that no nation can attain any great power without both physical and intellectual strength. This being true, would it not be wise for our government to employ, in connection with its free schools a system of physical training in gymnasiums? The idea is worth the careful consideration of all. What gave the Roman their almost universal power was common sense, love of country, great perseverance and, more than all, athletic training, giving them minds to think deeply and muscles like steel, quick to act and powerful to perform. We have no sympathy with those whose creed places woman in the place of man, but we assert that she has the same right to moderate exercise as her stronger brother. Why, let our boys and girls be exercised intellectually and physically that they may enjoy life themselves and be of service to their associates, their country and their God.

GRAMMAR SCHOOL BOY.

LORENZO DELMONICO.

Points in the History of the Famous New York Caterer.

A few days ago the telegraph announced the death of Lorenzo Delmonico,—the man whose life was devoted to preparing feasts that would probably have thrown the luxury of Apicius in the shade, if the ancient could have been seen in comparison with the modern. The following history will interest many readers. It is condensed from a New York paper:

Lorenzo Delmonico was born in the village of Mairengo, Switzerland. The first of the family who came to New York was John Delmonico. He was a seaman, and came here in 1825, in command of the three-masted schooner, engaged in trade between Cuba and this port. He returned to Switzerland and brought back with him his brother Peter, and in a small house on William street was born, in 1827, the first restaurant, Delmonico's. The restaurant flourished and grew fat down to 1835, when it was consumed in the great fire. Lorenzo, the present head of the family, had come over in 1830. Siro came in 1835, the year of the fire. Lorenzo, on his coming, went at once to work with his uncles. In 1830 Francois died, and in 1841 John, leaving Lorenzo and Peter heads of the house. The influence Delmonico exercised in elevating the restaurant system in New York was incalculable, indeed he has done more than any other man to raise the standard in America. Lorenzo Delmonico's habits of life were quiet and frugal to the extreme, and it was a business principle with him to be close and exacting in the conduct of his great and growing business. From early in the morning until late in the evening he was accustomed to sit at the desk in the Beaver street restaurant and watch the receipts. He was never careless, and by his thrift he thrived. In matters of Swiss or French charities he was ready and generous. His individual fortune is said to amount to over $200,000. He always made money from his early days in William street. He met with a severe set-back, however, about twenty years ago. He became president of a petroleum company, in which he was induced to take a large interest. The concern collapsed during his absence in Europe, and he was heavily involved. He offered his restaurant and hotel for sale, and made efforts to liquidate his entire debts. He was, however, reinstated in his business, and in a few years had made good the million he had lost in the petroleum speculation. During his latter years he smoked to excess, and the number and strength of the cigars which he daily consumed no doubt added to the complications as a result of which he died. His cigars were made to his order in Havana, were of unusual size, and as black almost as licorice. Of these he is said to have smoked nearly thirty a day. One cigar of such strength would have been considered excessive by a moderate smoker.

PARAGRAPHIC DETAIL.

Springfield Republican: The New York Stalwarts have the advantage of being perfectly ready to provoke defeat for the party, while the half-breeds are anxious to win.

The health of Mrs. Lincoln has much improved the last few weeks. She leaves for Washington soon to spend the fall and winter with her son, Secretary Robert T. Lincoln.

The workingmen of London propose to erect a monument to Dean Stanley, in commemoration of the sympathy which ever existed between the eminent Dean and the working-classes of England.

It is understood that Secretary Lincoln has ordered the troops on the frontier to be liberally supplied with playing-cards, in the hope that so much the more they will be [illegible].

Ex-President Hayes, in response to a request for his autograph in aid of a church fair, sent his reply: "At the suggestion of Mrs. Hayes," etc. It is evident that there has been no change in the administration of the Hayes family.

Gen. Grant, in the splendor of his Fifth avenue palace, refused to current this old [illegible] dale [illegible] residence, which contains in its character an old soldier who served under him in the war. Reprobably it is to be fear that there is a connection like the [illegible] chevrons of glory and the glory of virtue.

It is said which blows no good. It is said [illegible] the price of corn is now so high as to compel giving up [illegible] to stop their swilling. That means that sugar can now be bought cheaper than it has been. It is said also that the corn is too high for alcohol making, so that those making that purpose will be shipped up till prices decline.

GENERAL NEWS.

A SNOW STORM ADDS VARIETY TO THE CLIMATE OF IOWA

And a General Assortment of Fires, Railway Accidents, and Casualties of Various Descriptions make up the News of another Day.

[SPECIAL DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Reports received from Minnesota, say a storm of snow has been prevalent there since morning, and that quite a general [illegible] is reported in southern Minnesota. Nothing from storm has been received, but the report is believed to be correct.

The Snow Story Confirmed.

DES MOINES, Sept. 16.—It has been unusually cold for several days in this vicinity, the thermometer going no higher than 58 degrees, and dropping to 41. Snow fell all along the Rock Island road between Des Moines, 20 miles west of here, and points in Nebraska, two inches in depth. At one of the tops of the cars on the Rock Island train arriving here this afternoon was covered with [illegible] and the brakemen were snow balling.

A County to Leave.

MCGREGOR, Iowa, Sept. 16.—A snow storm prevailed all day in Northwestern Iowa, coming from a northwesterly direction and reaching as far east as Algona, Kossuth county, Iowa. At the point it fell to a depth of four inches.

The Northern Pacific Election.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Over $60,000,000 out of $91,000,000 of the stock of the Northern Pacific railroad company was represented to-day at the annual meeting of the stockholders of that company. It was a much larger delegation than was ever before present at a meeting, but the opposition Villard syndicate was unavailing. The following gentlemen were elected directors: Frederick Billings, Ashbel H. Barney, John W. Ellis, Robert Ralston, Robt. Harris, Thos. F. Oakes, Artemas Holmes and Henry Villard, New York; J. L. Potter, Elijah Smith and Benj. P. Cheney, Boston; John C. Bullitt, Philadelphia, and Henry E. Sibley, Illinois. The directors immediately elected H. Villard president, Thomas F. Oakes, vice-president; Anthony J. Thomas, second vice-president; Saml J. Wilkeson, secretary. The annual report presented to the stockholders shows the company has now 1065 miles of road in operation, exclusive of siding. The earnings for that portion of the year ending June last were from 754 miles of road against 722 miles in 1880, and exhibit an increase of $764,365, making a total of $2,[illegible]. The expenditures for the year, including operating expenses, rentals and taxes, amounted to $2,0[illegible], leaving a balance of $109,129. The capital stock of the company has been reduced during the past year by the extinguishment of preferred stock to the amount of $110,000,017, by sales of land in Minnesota and Dakota and of the Missouri river. The remainder outstanding June 30, $42,812,588 of preferred stock and $49,000,000 of common stock. The purpose of the company as officially stated is at once to put under contract the grading of the entire 876 miles of uncompleted line forming the gap between the eastern and western portion of the road, expecting to bring by the end of 1882 to lay track lat. and trains running to a point near Helena City, a distance of 300 miles from the mouth of Rosebud creek.

Exciting Foot Race.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—A 220 yard race took place yesterday at the Manhattan polo grounds between L. E. Myers of the Manhattan athletic club and Harry Hawes of the Olympic club of San Francisco. Myers gave Hawes eighteen yards start for the first hundred, and fifty yards Myers gained on his opponent, but when within five yards of the finish he could not win, and Hawes won by four yards in 21½ seconds. Myers' time was 22½ seconds.

The Fluctuations of Silver.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Silver continues to rise steadily in London, and the price paid each week is tantamount to a rise in the value of the precious metal. To-day the London quotation was $1.12½ against $1.12 last week, a gain of a little over a quarter of a cent an ounce, though the rise in [illegible] is so much less [illegible] than "parity" as last week, more being offered. 47,500 ounces of which were purchased out of about a million proposed. A curious question was arisen as to what would be the [illegible] should bullion keep in advance till it rose above 12½ an ounce, as under the law as it now stands coinage must go on at a rate of not less than $2,000,000 a month, nor more than $4,000,000 a month, and in event of the use of bullion to the gold standard, no higher dealers would sell to the dollars as fast as coined and sell them back again as bullion at a profit. While such a thing is not likely to happen, it might, and were congress not in session, it must go on. The possibility of such event simply shows defective law.

Activity in Mining Stocks.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Mining associated reports show much greater activity in mining stocks than for some time, and fluctuations have been frequent, though in most cases not wide. Stocks have been very strong in sympathy with the Sierra silver market, but much doubt is expressed as to security and continuance of the boom. Little advantage is taken by old operators of the reported strike in Sierra Nevada. Mining stocks in general, however, outside of the Comstock, were considered as a new indication pointing to higher prices in the future. The new water pipe for the state line mines are shipped, and the completion of the pipe line is awaited, as an advance is then expected. Leading stocks are coming to the front again, and a marked improvement. Chrysolite is leading its advance, and sold to-day up to $7.50. Bullion receipts in New York for the week from the interior $296,000. Sales of mining stocks in both exchanges are about 800,000.

Defaulter Arrested.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Morris J. Stedheimer, clerk for the Seligman bankers, has been arrested. He admits having stolen $13,000 in coupons.

Conkling not Entirely out of Politics.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—A Times dispatch from Utica, New York, says that Roscoe Conkling would attend the primary polls all day and carried seven wards of the admission [illegible] secured but four. He expects to go on the floor of the New York republican state convention as leader of the Oneida delegation.

A Minute Company Organized.

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 16.—The citizens of [illegible] county, Texas, have been granted authority to organize a volunteer minute company to protect life and property on the frontier beyond the Rio Grande, the state bearing none of the expenses.

Assassination of Geo. Tucker.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 16.—Gen. W. T. Tucker was assassinated last night at Okolona, Mississippi. He was called to the front door of his residence and shot down by an unknown party, death resulting almost instantly. His family were in another part of the house when the act was committed. Circumstances point to Houston Parish, a negro by [illegible] years old, with whom General Tucker had some trouble a few days ago. The guilty party has been arrested and is now in custody. The deceased was prominent citizen, having commanded a brigade during the late civil war.

Boiler Explosion.

The explosion of a boiler in Card & Co's sawmill near Monroe, Jasper County, resulted in the [illegible] death of E. N. [illegible] and fatal injury of M. L. Card.

Heavy Fire.

OSWEGO, N. Y. Sept. 16.—Total loss by fire last night is estimated at $285,000 exclusive of loss of government property, and the damage to the pier. Insurance $112,300, distributed among several companies.

Base Ball.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Chicagos 4, Bostons none. TROY, Sept. 16.—Clevelands 10, Troys 7.

Hanged.

ROCK ISLAND, Ill., Sept. 16.—Peyton Green for wantonly murdering Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Dilley, for whom he had worked and whom he wished to rob, was hanged at Cambridge, Ill., to-day.

Sinking Fund Established.

DENVER, Sept. 16.—Papers were to-day filed in the recorder's office establishing a sinking fund for the payment and redemption of Denver & Rio Grande first consolidated [illegible] years [illegible] per cent gold bonds. The papers provide for the payment of the fourth of one per cent annually on the amount outstanding for the first four years, one half of 1 per cent annually for the next five years, and 1 per cent annually thereafter until maturity of the bonds. These payments with accumulations as a sinking fund, will extinguish the principal fund and may be invested in the bonds at a premium not to exceed 20 per cent, or in government securities in the discretion of the trustees.

Serious Railroad Accident.

VICKSBURG, Sept. 16.—The west-bound train ran off the track near Edwards' depot this morning. The sleeping car, passenger car and emigrant's car was thrown from the track. Many passengers were injured, six of them seriously.

Open for Business.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The American Telegraph and Cable Co. open for business to-morrow; tariff of 18d (37½ cents) per word, 6d above charge of existing companies.

A Successor to Theophilus.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The World says: The secretary of the interior is not satisfied with the investigation of Pacific railroad made some weeks ago by Theophilus French, late auditor of railroad accounts. This conduct in the matter of the inspector of Central Pacific threw discredit, it is thought that reports respecting other roads, and his sudden expiration prevented his formulating the results of his inspections of his annual report. One report on the condition of the Pacific roads, Benj. Kirkwood has sent with a trustworthy gentleman from the office of railroad accounts, who will be submitted the results of his inspection in a report to be submitted to congress. This report concerning the affairs of the General [illegible] may differ from that of French's.

The Chambersburg, Penn., Repository says that Dr. Agnew first settled in the little straggling village of Upton, Franklin county, Penn., 42 years ago, and advertised his card in the issue of that paper for May 7, 1839, as follows: "Dr. D. H. Agnew, tenders his professional services to all who may favor him with their calls. He may be found at Mr. Thos. McCune's, near the Greencastle and Mercersburg turnpike, midway between the above named places."

The Century Co., publishers of Scribner's Monthly, which is to be known after October as The Century Magazine, will soon issue a portrait of Dr. Holland, which is said to be a remarkably fine likeness. It is the photograph of a life-size crayon drawing of the head and shoulders recently made by Wyatt Eaton, and will be about the size of the original picture. It is to be offered in connection with subscriptions.

Sivera's Cherry Tooth Paste.

An aromatic combination for the preservation of the Teeth and Gums; it is far superior to any preparation of the kind in the market. In large, handsome opal pots, price 50 cents. For sale by Woodard, Clarke & Co. Portland, Oregon.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS.

CALIFORNIA.

The Golden Gate Fair.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—At the Oakland race track to-day the third heat of the four-year-old trotting race, which was commenced yesterday, session, by Rosebud in 2:22¾. The result was a surprise, the pools having been $50 to $10 against Romero.

Pleads Guilty of Manslaughter.

[illegible] district court to-day, the trial of Henry Meyer, the Prussian charged with the murder of the sailor, Lawrence, in this city about a year ago, was taken up. After proceeding for some hours, it was brought to the notice of the court by the prisoner being allowed to plead guilty to the charge of manslaughter, which was accepted by the court. The jury was thereupon discharged and the prisoner remanded for sentence.

Injured by a Falling Tree.

This morning, while a watchman named Thos. Lambert, employed at R. D. Miller's charcoal pits at Ione dale, was on duty, a tree fell on him, fracturing his skull badly. He was at once placed under the care of Dr. Major.

Earthquake Shock.

Two distinct earthquake shocks were felt here at 10 minutes past 1 last night. The vibration seemed to be from northeast to southwest, and the shocks lasted about about two seconds each.

Assessment.

Boston Consolidated levies an assessment of twenty cents to-day.

Fell down a Well.

STOCKTON, Sept. 16.—Geo. Marshall, a hostler, working for the San Andreas Stage Co., at the North American house, Calaveras Co., was, on the 14th, instantly killed by falling down a well 150 feet in depth.

Drowned.

A young man named Somerset, aged about 19 years was accidentally drowned in the Mokelumne river near Lockeford. Locke dived into the stream and recovered the body, but too late to save his life.

The Mt. Tamalpais Fires.

SAN RAFAEL, Sept. 16.—The fire is still burning at Mt. Tamalpais, but with subdued force. It is now going toward the top of the mountain and unless the high wind, which is now blowing, changes, all danger to Blythedale, Dr. Cushing's place, is over. The same may be said of numerous ranches, in the vicinity. The destruction of feed for stock at the very great, and some of the sufferers can illy afford it.

NEVADA.

Losses by the Austin Fire.

AUSTIN, Sept. 16.—Below is an approximate estimate of some of the losses by the fire yesterday: Probs, $7500; John Dolan, $4000; Chas. Polking-horne, $5000; Robert Pohl, $500; Triplett & Clark, $3000; M. Keogh, $1500; L. A. Weller, $1500; Price & Read, $3000; F. Von Nordeck, $3500; Hoffman Bros, $1500; Parrott & McJamb, $400; Jacob Dreyfuss, $1500; S. Crescenzo, $400; Dr. J. S. Hammond, $100; Henry Eiling, $2000; M. A. Tower & Co., $3500; Wengemut & Co., $100; Wm. Gibson, $500; W. D. Deidel, $1000; Simon Bray, $700; Masonic and Odd Fellows' hall association, $6000. The above is only a partial showing of losses, there being many small amounts which it was impossible to obtain. Besides the block totally destroyed, the fronts of buildings on the opposite side of Main street are all more or less charred and blackened. It will require considerable time to aggregate to place them as before. The Reveille yesterday placed the loss at $60,000 to $75,000, which covers the entire loss. The Reveille had its [illegible] saved, as the fire was confined to the business block. The amount of insurance is as follows: R. Hogan, $1200; J. A. Wright, $1500; Tower & Co., $3000; Odd Fellows, about $5000; F. Treuss, $1500; F. Von Nordeck, $1000.

Mining News.

VIRGINIA, Sept. 16.—Senator Fair is still reticent in regard to what is doing at the bottom of the Sierra Nevada winze, but says work there is progressing, and considering that there is a strong flow of water, from this it would appear that sinking has been resumed, and such is the belief on the streets. It is also reported on the street that the west drift from the 2500 station, which is 25 feet in length, is pretty well filled with ore taken from the bottom of the winze. A diamond drill has been put in the joint consolidated Virginia and Best & Belcher cross-cut on the 2300 level. The drill is in 85 feet, and yesterday drillings gave assays as high as $80.

ARIZONA.

The Apache Campaign.

CAMP THOMAS, A. T., Sept. 16.—Gen. Willcox has established pickets surrounding the reservation, outside of which all Indians found will be treated as hostiles, except those employed by the military. The movements of troops will be facilitated now as the district commanders will be able to communicate with each other more promptly as to the movements and directions taken by the hostiles. Two Mexicans came in here this afternoon and report that Indians had run off a band of sheep which they were herding, about eight miles from Camp Thomas, across Gila river. Lieut. Bailey of the 6th cavalry with his company, has left in pursuit of them. There is nothing from Fort Apache concerning the doings or whereabouts of the hostiles, but the greater portion of them are thought to be in the vicinity of Cibicu.

No more Indians for Scouts.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—A dispatch to the Tucson Citizen says that permission to enlist any more Mojaves or Yumas for scouts has been refused by Agent Tiffany to Major Biddle. Tiffany's refusal is uncalled for, as the scouts are indispensable.

Hostiles Endeavoring to Communicate with Reservation.

A squaw came into the sub agency yesterday and reported that a party of hostiles, strong, well armed and with a supply of cartridges arrived on the Apache and San Carlos trail on the north side of Black river, near the scene of the recent Apache raid. Some of the hostiles came close to the reservation and tried to have a talk with the reservation Indians night before last. It is thought that the hostiles have been lately moving towards Cibicu.

BY STATE TELEGRAPH.

Meeting of the Pioneer's Society.

JACKSONVILLE, Sept. 16.—The pioneer's society of southern Oregon met at Ashland yesterday: Wm. Hoffman, president; S. J. Day, secretary, and E. K. Anderson, marshal, were present. Vocal and instrumental music, dinner and a general good time was had. Mrs. A. S. Dunniway of Portland being present was accorded the distinguished honor of principal orator of the day. She was announced by the president, and without previous notice or preparation, came forward and addressed the audience for nearly an hour, and though wholly impromptu, it was conceded to be one of the best ever delivered before the society. She was called again at the conclusion of the exercises, and made many telling hits, the large number present testifying their appreciation by alternate bursts of laughter and applause. Public sentiment is rapidly changing here in regard to woman suffrage, several leaders openly and earnestly advocating it. And so the world moves.

WASHINGTON TERRITORY.

Shipping Notes.

PORT TOWNSEND, Sept. 16.—The steamship Idaho arrived this morning from San Francisco. The steamer St. Paul sailed for Ounalaska this morning.

Unable to Get a Jury.

In the district court to-day, when the case of Henry Messig, the Russian, charged with murder, was called, it was found impossible to obtain a jury, so the case was postponed till to-morrow.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

Pretty Good Proof.

VICTORIA, Sept. 16.—A large iron buoy, picked up on the west coast of this island has been identified as a Russian buoy from the mouth of the Amoor river. The casting of this buoy on the beach, a many thousand miles distant from its original mooring, is accepted as a proof of Wilkes' theory of the existence of a Japanese current, which some wise men have recently disputed.

Sheridan Entertaining Victoria Audiences.

W. E. Sheridan is engaged to appear at the Theatre Royal. He is playing Richelieu this evening before a packed house. Seats are all engaged three days in advance.

A Chance for Workers.

There is an increased demand for real estate, and labor is unobtainable at any reasonable rate.

Ready for Sea.

The bark Jean Pierre, lumber laden at Burrard inlet, is ready for sea.

Coal Miners on a Strike.

VICTORIA, Sept. 16.—The miners of Chase river and Douglas coal pits, near Nanaimo, struck work to-day. It is not known how long the strike will last. The steamship Nicholas has arrived at Nanaimo from San Francisco and will load at the Vancouver Coal Co.'s shutes.

Very Sound Advice.

Some days ago Mr. Gladstone gave the Baroness Burdett-Coutts' young man, Mr. Ashmead Bartlett, some very good advice. The young man had made a decidedly impudent speech in the house of commons. It made no impression, and he sat down amid profound silence. His attack had been bitter but indiscriminate, and, though it was vehement, it wanted point. Mr. Gladstone, rising said:

"I cannot but wish to offer one of the youngest of the honorable members who has just sat down to be levied in the midst of the solemn silence which appeared in all quarters to have been prepared on the due ad[illegible] The honorable gentleman is young; the honorable gentleman takes great pains; he has plenty of time to gain instruction; he has plenty of time to unlearn a great deal. Let him apply it at time to good purpose, let him learn this: That if he wants to make a real impression on the world to give aid to his friends, or to inflict disaster on his adversaries, the truthless in the manner is fit to restrain his influence and keeping proof of his words within the bounds of accurate and actual experience, to submit himself to be taught by the lessons of the world and the lessons of to-day, and to learn and know what moderation reserved and consideration for those with whom you have to deal—and to endeavor to bring your proposition into exact conformity with the circumstances of the case—are for him, and for everybody else, the first conditions of useful and durable success."

Dark Days on the Comstock.

[San Francisco Bulletin.]

Fortune's wheel on the great Comstock has revolved to the lowest spoke of its rim. A year has elapsed since the last dividend was paid, and it is over four years since the dark tide began to flow the wrong way for all speculative interests. Operations have been kept up at heavy expense, and hope has fallen upon hope. Every revolution of the wheel, whether in the form of a drive drift or water, is attended with suspense. Only two mines out of a long list running across the lode for a distance of two miles, were doing more than to pay expenses for the year ending July 1, and were draining their ledges. All the others were by turn assessed directly to the pockets of stockholders, up to the year ending May 1, 1881, there were nearly 60 assessments levied by twenty-seven mines on the Comstock. The dividends from Utah to Benton, and the aggregate levy was over $6,000,000.

SATURDAY MORNING, SEPT. 17, 1881.

THE RIVER CHANNELS.

It seems fit to offer some further observations upon river improvement. We have before said that improvement of the river from Portland to the sea is of more importance to the producers of this whole country than any other single work of similar kind, and yet it is of far less importance to Portland than to the great agricultural interest of the country. But some say that the most necessary thing is improvement of the Columbia river bar, and others that the matter of first importance is construction of the Cascade locks. Now it is well enough that either of these works, or both of them, be prosecuted. At the same time neither is or can be of so general utility to the country as deepening the river channels from Portland to the sea, and therefore this last work ought not to be postponed to either of the first, or to both of them together. Large vessels can cross the Columbia bar, and do cross it constantly. Undoubtedly the bar might be improved, but it would probably take a long time and many millions of money. So great a scheme is one which the future must provide for as the country grows in commercial importance. Consider, too, the actual facts as to the locks at the Cascades. It will be many years before they can be completed, and every one sees that when completed they will afford only a short additional reach of river navigation. Still the locks will be a useful work, though not so generally useful as many seem to suppose. If they could be completed within a reasonable time, and, if the river would be effectively opened by them, there would be less room for questioning the wisdom which looks to these locks for the speedy and complete deliverance of "the great upper country." But after the Cascade locks have been finished the river will still be tightly closed to the great masses of the people east of the mountains; and nobody is so sanguine as to suppose that any one now having products to be marketed will live long enough to see locks completed both at the Cascades and Dalles. While, therefore, it is well enough to go on with the scheme of opening the upper river, it should be remembered that something else is still necessary—that other things in fact ought to be done, for the fruition of which the country will not be obliged to wait during a period of thirty to fifty years. One of these things is the deepening of these lower rivers, so as to take off the tax which the products of the country have to pay for detention and handling;—and this can be done quickly, and with comparatively little expense. The Columbia bar, and certainly the channel between the bar and Astoria, ought to have attention; but we include what is necessary now in this behalf in the statement that the river channels ought to be deepened from Portland to the sea. The work is required only at a few places, and could be easily and quickly accomplished. But here it is said that there is no need of deeper water between Portland and Astoria, as the river channels have ample depth for river craft, and sea-going vessels need not ascend to Portland. Observe, however, that the products of the country can not escape payment of tribute on account of these bars, even if sea-going vessels never ascend to Portland, but load exclusively at Astoria. To any one who will look at all the facts of the situation the reason must be apparent. The railroad lines, which will soon be so far completed as to do nearly the whole business of the country, all terminate at Portland. Wheat from the south or east, brought on cars to Portland, must be unloaded here. If it can be unloaded directly into ships, a considerable charge will be saved. If it must be unloaded upon barges or steamboats, carried to Astoria and transferred to ships lying there, the operation will be a charge of the producer; and therefore these bars in the lower rivers will be a steady tax on the farmers of the country, even if vessels load at Astoria. The only escape from this tax of two to five cents on every bushel of wheat is to deepen the channels of the lower rivers, so that vessels may load at the point where the cars deliver the wheat. As matters now stand, Portland is not suffering from the delay in removal of these river bars. On the contrary, she is making a profit out of it, but at the expense of all the farmers of the country. Nothing could be more short-sighted or erroneous than the supposition that it is solely to promote Portland's interest that request is made for attention to removal of these bars. No improvement that could possibly be made would do the whole producing classes of the country from Southern Oregon on the one hand to Eastern Oregon and Washington on the other, so much service as the excavation of the channels of the lower Willamette and Columbia rivers. What is more, a ship channel, sufficiently deep at lowest stage of water, could be opened by the work of five months and with little expense, and kept open at a yearly cost which would be trifling in comparison with that of many other undertakings of far less importance and general value. Portland levies tribute on all the producers of the country on account of these bars and will continue to do so till they are removed, no matter how much money is spent at the mouth of the river, at the Cascade locks or elsewhere. So if the farmers, instead of allowing themselves to be hoodwinked by merely local interests, or to be led by prejudiced or short-sighted appeals to look for relief where no actual relief is to be found, desire that this state of affairs shall be brought to a termination, they would do well to unite in a demand upon their representatives at Washington for prompt attention, first of all, to removal of the obstructions in the rivers from Portland to the sea. When that is done—and it may be accomplished in a year by proper attention and vigor—local improvements will begin to serve a good purpose. Here is a channel which nearly the whole country must use. No matter what people here and there may think about it, they cannot get away from the fact. The railroads settle this, and it must be accepted, either now or hereafter. We are not speaking of wishes or uttering conjectures. We are only stating patent facts. In ordinary affairs men have a perception of what is most for their advantage and follow it. The present matter is not more difficult of comprehension by reason of being one that concerns all the people of a country. It is all the more plain for that very reason. As a great river includes all its tributaries, so a main channel of commerce is equal to all its branches together, and what is done for the benefit of the whole is done for every part. But in many things men unfortunately make the mistake of putting some particular part above the whole. Such is the error that argues for dispersion of effort in a case like that before us which gives principal attention to matters which, useful as they may be, are only of local importance, and neglects the main thing which includes all the rest. Our principal object has been to show that improvement of the navigation of the lower rivers is a subject of general interest to the country, and not a matter which, as many assume, concerns Portland alone; and we trust we have succeeded in making the matter clear.

Mr. John Walter, proprietor of the London Times, remarked in New York the other day that nothing would quiet the Irish agitation but separation of England and Ireland, and that never would be granted. From this statement it would appear that there is little hope of ever being done with the Irish question.

A new two-cent daily newspaper is to be started in New York as a special advocate of workingmen's interests. Special weeklies often succeed, but special dailies never.

Last year the Pennsylvania railroad carried 1,000,000 tons of freight. There was more than six tons of local to one ton of through business.

APPREHENSIONS RENEWED.

It is very evident that the president is not gaining. On the contrary there are grave indications of relapse or decline. Absence of expressions of confidence on the bulletins of the physicians is very noticeable. For several days the reports have indicated a decline of vitality in the patient incident to low septicemia; and this has been so prolonged that serious doubts may be entertained as to his power of recuperation. Obviously it is impossible that the present status should long continue. The signs of improvement which were noted some days ago are now partially suspended or wholly absent. Fluctuations of pulse and temperature show that the patient is extremely weak and his vitality dangerously low. Of his mental condition the physicians say little, which in itself is ominous, and the little they do say tends to excite apprehension rather than to allay it. It is now just eleven weeks since he was shot, and during these seventy-seven days he has been making a struggle for life with almost constant loss of vital power. Remembering what he has already passed through, and how his sudden changes for the better have come so unexpectedly on occasions when his condition seemed absolutely hopeless, the people will not yet give him up; and yet it must be confessed that no one can point out any rational chance on which to found a substantial hope that he may live.

Census bulletin No. 245 furnishes statistics relating to salt manufacture in the United States. The production in 1879-'80 was as follows: By solar evaporation, 4,891,126 bushels; by kettle or pan process, 8,852,321 bushels; by steam evaporation, 16,115,351 bushels. The number of establishments has decreased from 399 in 1860 and 282 in 1870 to 264 in 1880—the larger establishments gradually swallowing up the smaller ones. The greatest number of persons employed at any one time during the year was 5065; the total amount of wages paid during the year was $1,256,143. Total production 29,800,298 bushels, having a value of $4,817,686. The salt companies have been enjoying enormous protection, sometimes in excess of 100 per cent, and frequently prohibitory. They have demanded this protection in the name of "American labor," when in fact including men, women and children, the greatest force of labor employed in the salt business, and that only for a part of the year, was 5065 persons. The whole wages paid in a year by the great New York monopoly was less than $275,000, not more than is paid by any first-class newspaper establishment in the country. Yet these salt robbers have exacted of consumers an enormous bounty, under pretense of "protecting American industry." The whole system of robbery, in the name of "protection," is made up of items resembling this showing.

A locomotive especially adapted to a new fuel will soon be run from New York and Chicago. This locomotive will generate and burn hydrogen gas produced from water by the Holland process, and it is estimated that not only will ninety-three per cent. in the cost of fuel be saved, but that the effects of the remaining seven per cent. will be more than doubled. The dead weight, in fact, will be diminished by four or five tons as compared with coal burning engines. There will be no back pressure on the pistons from the retarded escape of steam, and there will be no more smoke or sparks. The inventor claims that his contrivance will soon supersede the use of steam power. But remembering the Keely motor, the public will wait to see. Yet it is certain that a locomotive, to test the practicability of the invention, has been finished at the Grant locomotive works, Paterson, N. J. It is claimed that the motor can as easily be applied to propulsion of ships as to traction of railway trains. A correspondent who has seen the engine writes in this enthusiastic way: "A revolution in the whole business of transportation is expected that will stretch the locomotive building resources of the country to their extremity for years to come, abolish the last vestige of canal competition, and sweep sailing vessels from all waters, from the least to the greatest."

How much longer is manufacturing industry in the United States to continue in its "infancy" and need "protection?" For one hundred years the country has been "protecting its infant manufacturers"—that is, robbing the consumer to pay the manufacturer an excessive profit,—and this over-greedy and overgorging "infancy" is as still helpless as ever. Everything that interferes with the free intercourse of trade robs the people in one way or another. For all the "protection" that one class gets another class is surely obliged to pay. It is as certain a truth as the equilibrium of forces, and its operation is none the less certain because it is sometimes occult. Its processes may be disguised under the fine name of "protection," but their effect is not thereby changed.

A "Grammar School Boy" thinks it will be "wise for our government to employ, in connection with its free schools, a system of physical training in gymnasiums," and the suggestion is pressed with warmth and at some length. We know a better way. After the boys get big enough to work send them to school only five months in the year and put them through at useful and steady labor for the other seven. And even during their five months of schooling in winter have them out of bed before daybreak to "do the chores." By all means too see that they are in bed before ten o'clock at night. Such training will render gymnastic exercises unnecessary, and the boys will grow up, not to be "fighting cocks," but useful men.

The scheme of connecting England and France by tunnel under the channel is reported to be quite feasible. On both sides of the water shafts have been sunk and boring is in progress. The machinery employed excavates 67 yards of lineal distance per week. An experimental tunnel seven feet in diameter is first to be bored through, and afterwards enlarged. The tunnel will be eighteen miles long, and parties working from either end will meet under the middle of the channel. Five years will be required to put the experimental tunnel through.

General Wetzel, whose army corps was the first to enter Richmond after the departure of Lee's army, says in a letter to the Philadelphia Times that when Jefferson Davis' office was opened a confidential letter from Lee to Davis was found, dated the preceding October, saying that the confederate cause was hopeless. It has always been known that Gen. Lee wrote or testified in February or January to this effect; but if he made the same statement in October, Davis must be held deeply responsible for prolonging the war after his military adviser had declared it lost.

On the 6th of September a thick yellow cloud enveloped Boston to such a degree that many factories were compelled to close. The signal service observers gave the explanation that the sun's rays were filtered through a very light fog in the atmosphere. So great was the darkness in Providence that ... gas was used at noon.

CITY.

DEATH OF E. S. GRIFFITH.—News was received here yesterday of the death of Mr. E. S. Griffith, an old gentleman who formerly resided in Portland, and whose name is familiar to him [illegible] Mr. Griffith departed this life yesterday at Stockton, California. The deceased was at 72 years. He came to Oregon in 1854 from Des Moines, Iowa. He settled at La Grande, Union county, but remained there only a short time, removing to Portland in 1865. Soon after coming to this city Mr. Griffith was offered and accepted the position of chief accountant in the business office of THE OREGONIAN. He commenced work for this establishment in June, 1865, and held the position until January 1879—a period of 14 years. Failing health and advancing years compelled him at length to relinquish the arduous and exacting duties of the desk and he retired. In 1879 Mr. Griffith removed with his family to San Francisco, in the hope of benefitting his health. But he obtained no relief and gradually grew worse. For the past six months he had been an invalid. He left San Francisco some months ago and took up his residence in Stockton, where he remained until his death. Deceased was at the time of his death a member of Samaritan Lodge, I. O. O. F., of this city. He was also a past grand [illegible] of order. In respect to the memory of the departed the flag floated yesterday at half-mast over the Odd Fellows' Temple. A wife, one daughter and three sons survive. The son, a young man, now resides in Portland. To all the relations of the deceased was an honest and honorable gentleman. During his long connection with the business office of THE OREGONIAN he was faithful to the interest of his employer, careful to the details of his work, conscientious and scrupulously honest. His death will be sincerely regretted by many.

ITEM NO. 12.—A number of persons asked OREGONIAN reporters yesterday what a "Spanish windlass" is. A shackle is composed of two separate semi-circles of that iron an inch thick, joined by screws, which are turned by keys similar to those used for locking piano lids. The heads of the screws are like the stem of a lock. A piece of heavy twine is forced around the screw head and twisted tight by means of a stick. Continued turning revolves the screw, until it comes out, and the shackle falls apart. This twisted string is called by the profession a "Spanish windlass." We had not time to prepare diagrams and illustrations. Those desiring further information should call at the county jail. Mordaunt, after he had relieved himself of the incumbrance, rolled a box to the side of the [illegible], preparatory to jumping overboard. Captain [illegible] of the E. N. Cooke which was lying alongside taking on baggage, noticed this and called the attention of the Columbia's mate to it. Nothing more was observed until the cries of Mordaunt were heard. The Cooke lowered a boat and rescued the escapee. A waiter recognized Mordaunt, and the Cooke's officers delivered him to the custody of the police. He was taken to Salem this morning, and with this, the twelfth chapter of Vol. II, the story of "Mad Mordaunt; or, the Savage Slayer of Staple Sailors," closes.

BENEVOLENT BROTHERS FRAUDS.—Almost daily we hear of citizens being importuned for enough money to buy a meal. In nine cases out of ten the petitioner is a fraud. Two cases of this kind came under our notice this week. One was of a strong, able-bodied man, who pleaded earnestly for means to buy a meal. The gentleman accosted took the party to a convenient lunch house, threw down two bits, telling the proprietor to give the worth of the coin, and turned away. Having occasion to pass the restaurant a few minutes later, the benevolent individual discovered the healthy, hungry brother non est. He had gathered in the [illegible], and the others of his class adjourned to a saloon. Another benevolent party loaned $2 50 to an individual who said he could not get work but probably would at a certain place. It was afterwards ascertained that all the [illegible] change the party had his hands on went to the faro table.

DIED SUDDENLY.—Chas. F. Speck, a young man well known in Portland, died quite suddenly at his residence on Second and Madison streets, yesterday afternoon. Deceased had been suffering severely with the asthma for some months. He had been very poorly for several days, and during the afternoon yesterday went out riding. Soon after his return he had a very severe attack and died from suffocation. Dr. A. P. Truesdell was called in, but arrived too late to afford any relief. Deceased has been a resident of the city since 1873. He was for a time connected with the local department of the Daily Bulletin, and subsequently with the Evening Telegram. He was afterward in the cigar and tobacco business on First street. For the past two years Mr. Speck has been employed at the Oregon Bakery. He was aged about 33 years. A wife survives him.

ASSAULT WITH BOILING WATER.—Last night, John Dunn, a deck hand on one of the lower river boats, went into a Chinese wash house, near the corner of First and Oak streets, and asked for his clean linen. The boss was absent and the employes refused to deliver it. After waiting a while, Dunn made a second request, which was refused, whereupon he picked up a bundle belonging to him, and started out. One of the hands, Ah Kee, gathered a pot of boiling water and threw the liquid on Dunn's neck and [illegible] him so severely that the skin peeled off. Ah Kee and three others were arrested and locked up.

APPOINTED DEPUTY WARDEN.—A short time ago charges were preferred by Superintendent Bush against Mr. Osborne, who for some years has filled the responsible position of deputy warden at the state penitentiary. The result was the resignation of Osborne and its acceptance. George Jackson, who has been acting as night watchman at the penitentiary since 1879, has been appointed to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Osborne.

[illegible].—At the annual meeting of the Portland Scandinavian Society, held Thursday evening, the following officers were elected: Ko[illegible] president, Arthur Wilson; vice president, M. W. Pa[illegible]; corresponding secretary, C. K. Lindhard; financial secretary, A. Mattson; treasurer, A. Fred. Anderson; and for finance committee, M. Gunderson, G. A. Lindeberg and [illegible] Borden.

FLOATING BODY.—Yesterday afternoon an Indian [illegible] brought information to Mr. Pierce, an employe on the coast survey barge of Capt. Rockwell near the mouth of the Willamette, that she had seen the body of a white woman drifting down the Columbia about fifty feet from shore, and that she [illegible] it had [illegible] past the Willamette. The body was clothed.

[VALUABLE] PUBLICATION.—Volume III. (for July and August) of the Resources of Oregon and Washington has been issued by the publishers—Messrs. [illegible] and Wm. G. Steel. This publication is devoted wholly to the resources of the northwest, and contains much of interest and value. The Resources is a neatly printed and bound pamphlet of 40 pages.

TEACHERS' INSTITUTE.—The East Portland teachers' institute meets at the Central building this morning (Saturday, the 17th) at 10 o'clock. Teachers in adjoining districts invited to attend. "How [illegible] should the pupil know before he [illegible] the text-book?" will be a question for general discussion.

[illegible].—It now turns out that the licentious and grey-haired old reprobate, who on being arrested gave his name as John Johnson, has been traveling under an alias. His real name is Chas. Carlings. He has been indicted by the grand jury, and will be arraigned for plea in the state circuit court next Monday.

CITY OF CHESTER.—This steamer sailed from this port for San Francisco last evening with a cargo of [illegible]. The Chester will receive 200 tons of wheat at Astoria.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

[illegible] A. Breyman, commission merchant, has removed to corner of Front and Stark streets.

J. Van Beurden, the jeweler, is offering a large and fine assortment of diamonds, jewelry, barometers and silverware, which he imports. These goods he is selling at exceedingly low prices. It behooves all to call on him.

John Cran & Co., invite special attention to their first invoice of new fall goods—plaids in new shades, silks, rhadames and satins to match, black silks, black brocades, etc; also cloaks and ulsters, hosiery, neckwear in elegant style, gimp, fringes, etc. They have a very large assortment of everything in their line of business. Remember they have the genuine Foster gloves.

OPEN TEMPERANCE MEETING.

Commencing at 7:45 this evening, an open temperance meeting will be held at Y. M. C. A. hall. Following is the programme:

1. Selection from the Farmers' Mass; flute and organ.
2. Presentation of the pledge; by the president.
3. Piano solo, selection; by Mrs. J. C. Epperly.
4. Address; by Rev. G. W. Izer.
5. Recitation; by Edith Conn.

PERSONAL.

Dr. Wilson Bowlby of Forest Grove made a flying trip to Portland yesterday—bringing [illegible] behind his own team.

A Portland accountant who has been at work 25 years and begins to be afflicted with "steel pen paralysis," has been ordered by his physician to stop writing. Should those eminent citizens, J. W. Nesmith and W. H. Watkinds "feel sick" at any time, will they please send for that doctor?

SAILING HOUR CHANGED.

The steamship Columbia which has been announced to sail from here for San Francisco at 12:45 Tuesday morning, will sail five hours earlier, viz., 8 o'clock Monday evening.

It is quite probable that the O. R. and N. Co. will dispatch all their steamers from this port at 7 P. M. instead of at 12.

AUCTION SALES.

A. B. Richardson will hold a regular auction sale to-day at 10 A. M. at Nathan's auction house, Nos. 225 and 227 Second street, between Main and Salmon.

Gilman & Co. will hold a special sale this forenoon at 10 o'clock at the residence No. 114 Mill street—southeast corner of Sixth and Mill. A very choice and desirable lot of furniture, carpets, etc. Remember the time and place.

A majority of the people select Saturday as the day to purchase clothing and furnishing goods. Therefore I would like to call the attention of the public to my immense stock, and ask for an inspection. I am ready to serve the poor as well as the rich. I have suits from $9 to $40, underwear from 50 cents to $20, hats from 75 cents to $5. I will make to order a pair of pants from $5 50 to $12, or a suit $25 to $55. Etc., etc. Visit Isaac Bachman the Clothier, corner First and Washington streets.

Woods is not the pioneer hatter, but the hatter that keeps the largest stock and sells at the lowest prices.

A large assortment of fine engravings just received by the steamer at Victor Winey's, corner Third and Morrison.

Will not take a back seat against any photographer for first class work. The large and steady run of business transacted by Abell is sufficient endorsement for any artist in his line.

MATTERS SOCIAL.

The lull between the summer and the fall season continues, and events have not been plentiful. ANSWERS TO NUMEROUS QUESTIONS.

Manufacturing the greater portion of our stock and buying from manufacturers direct we are enabled to undersell any establishment in the United States.

We reset DIAMONDS in any style.

We manufacture any article in jewelry or silverware line to order.

ENGRAVING on gold, silver and ivory tastefully executed.

Any WATCH MOVEMENT now manufactured with any style of GOLD, SILVER, COMPOSITION, NICKEL OR CELLULOID case we can supply.

Our Solid Gold jewelry department consists of the latest novelties.

In silver and silver-plated ware, spoons, forks, etc., our stock is large and well selected.

Diamonds, pearls and other precious stones we have set in all suitable articles in the line, and have unquestionably the largest stock in Portland.

We have facilities for GOLD AND SILVER PLATING. To the latter we call the attention of HOTEL KEEPERS. Spoons and forks and fancy pieces can be replated to be as good as new, and to cost considerably less than new. Send quantities direct. Requiring replating and we will send rates.

In CLOCKS we have a full assortment.

SPECTACLES, EYEGLASSES, and all articles connected with the optical line, our stock is complete. We have the only OPTIMETER eyemeasurer on the coast, and are enabled to test the strength or weakness of EACH EYE SEPARATELY, thereby enabling persons to obtain proper glasses was heretofore found difficult to be fitted.

In addition to above articles we have a complete and well selected stock of ROLLED GOLD JEWELRY. All dealers and merchants handling goods in our line will find it to their advantage to call on us when coming to the city, or send their orders, as we are enabled to supply them at the same rates, often lower than they can buy of jobbers and middlemen in the east and San Francisco. GOODS SENT ON SELECTION to parties known to us (charges to be paid by purchaser both ways) with privilege to return within a reasonable length of time. Goods sent per W. F. & Co., C. O. D., with the privilege to examine at express office, to any one, when charges both ways are deposited in W. F. & Co.'s office.

Our watch repairing department is in the hands of the most skillful workmen. The watch repairing particularly solicited. Ship chronometers rated by transit observation.

Old gold and jewelry taken in trade and bought outright for cash.

PIONEERS GONE.

Mrs. Rosanna Herren, one of the pioneer women of Oregon, departed this life at the house of her son, J. C. Herren, in Marion county, on the 10th of Sept., at the advanced age of 7[illegible] years.

Deceased was born in Henry county, Ky., March 18[illegible]. She was married to John Herren at the residence of her father, Mr. Robbins, in the county and state of her birth, on the 11th day of June, 1832. They removed to [illegible] in [illegible] county [illegible] in the fall of 1838, but soon after removed to Platte county, Mo., and located near Weston, where they resided until the spring of 1845, when they crossed the plains with ox teams and arrived in Yamhill county, Oregon, in November. In 1850 they removed [illegible] was then called the "Old Mission," near Wheatland. In February, 1855, they removed to Marion county, where they made their last and final earthly home. Her husband died March 2, 1871.

Mrs. Herren was the honored and beloved mother of 13 children, 7 sons and 6 daughters, of whom 11 lived to manhood and womanhood, and 10 of whom, together with 104 grandchildren and great-grandchildren, now live to mourn her loss and venerate her memory.

Simon Plamondon, one of the oldest pioneers of Washington Territory, died at his home on the Cowlitz river on [illegible]. He was born in Canada, May [illegible], 1782, and therefore was aged 99 years 4 months and 9 days. He settled on Cowlitz prairie in 1832, and for years was connected with the Hudson Bay Company.

SANTA CLAUS WINS.

THE GREAT STALLION RACE AT BEACON PARK.

Piedmont second, Wedgewood third—Time not Remarkable—Other Interesting Trials of Speed, etc., etc.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—Only three stallions appeared at 2 o'clock when the first heat of the $10,000 stallion race was called. Piedmont, Santa Claus and Wedgewood. They drew positions in that order and on the eighth attempt got away, with Santa Claus, who was driven by Hickok, a half length behind. Piedmont was leading at the turn, followed by Santa Claus, with Wedgewood on the outside. These positions were maintained to the quarter, with the exception that Piedmont showed an open length before Santa Claus, while Wedgewood was several lengths behind. As they reached the back stretch Wedgewood had retired several lengths to the rear. Santa Claus and Piedmont were trotting finely, the former poking his nose to Piedmont's wheel. On the turn on the back stretch, Santa Claus came along upon even terms. The California horse proved too speedy, and when within a few yards of the quarter pole had opened a length from Piedmont which was increased to two and then to three lengths. As they came into the stretch Santa Claus led by two lengths and the three came down into the home stretch and passed the distance flag about 2 lengths apart. Hickok urged his noble horse and at a terrible burst of speed he came past the short distance flag grandly, amid a flutter of handkerchiefs and huzzas of thousands of men and ladies. Santa Claus won easily with Piedmont two lengths behind and Wedgewood a respectable third. Time, first quarter, 35¼; half, 1:09¼; three quarters, 1:43¾; mile 2:17½. This record is within one-half of a second of Santa Claus' best record, 2:17½, made at Chicago, July 19th last.

Second heat.—For the second heat, pools sold, Santa Claus, 165 dollars; Piedmont 165 dollars; Wedgewood, 60 dollars. The horses were sent away evenly. Santa Claus went to the front. Piedmont a good second and Wedgewood two lengths behind. Just before they went to the quarter Santa Claus went into the air, and before he could regain his feet both Piedmont and Wedgewood had passed him. As they passed the quarter Piedmont was ahead of Wedgewood and nearly six in advance of Santa Claus. Wedgewood came up even terms with Piedmont as they entered into the upper stretch and a blanket would have covered both for nearly an eighth of a mile. Wedgewood went up as they passed the upper turn and Piedmont went ahead about two lengths. During this time Santa Claus was jogging along lively on the back stretch five or six lengths behind Wedgewood. He came in splendid manner as the others went into the home stretch. A pretty race ensued between Piedmont and Wedgewood. The Chicago horse was not headed however, and won the heat by about a length. Santa Claus was just inside the short distance flag, when Piedmont passed the wire. Time, quarter, 36; half, 1:10½; three quarter, 1:45; mile, 2:20¾.

The third heat—for the third heat pools were sold at $100 for Piedmont to $250 for the field. Horses were called up for this heat at 4 o'clock and on the 6th trial received the word. Piedmont went to the front easily, with Wedgewood second and Santa Claus outside a good third. On the back stretch after passing the quarter in 35 seconds in the above positions, Santa Claus drew up and passing the Boston horse as though he had been a post, came to Piedmont and capping him on the half at the pole in 1:10 forged ahead of him soon after leaving two lengths between them. On the three quarter stretch Wedgewood was trailing along behind all this time and came up as likely as possible in order to save a distance. The horses came down the home stretch with Santa Claus leading by two open lengths, Piedmont and Wedgewood coming up in the rear. As the horses passed the long distance a stir beneath the grand stand gave way and two thousand people surged off the steps. As they did so there was a general rush and in the midst of the stampede the horses came home with thousands shouting and throwing their hats in air. Santa Claus beat Piedmont out by four open lengths, while Wedgewood just saved his distance. Time, quarter 35¾; half 1:10, three quarters 1:43¾, mile 2:18.

Fourth heat—Pools now sold at $50 for Santa Claus and $24 for the field. On the third score the horses received the word in a splendid start. Santa Claus led to the quarter followed by Piedmont and Wedgewood. As they passed the quarter pole Santa Claus drew out and increased his advantage to two lengths and Wedgewood lapped Piedmont's wheel at the half mile pole. The favorite was three lengths ahead on the roadside stretch. Wedgewood and Piedmont were even for several lengths and Santa Claus was six lengths ahead and the race was conceded to him. He won handily, with six lengths to spare, Piedmont second and Wedgewood third. Time, quarter 35¼, half 1:10¼, three quarters 1:46¾, mile 2:19. Race and first money were given to Santa Claus, second to Piedmont, third to Wedgewood.

THE NORTHWEST.

Western Oregon.

The Junction City mills have put out sacks for 120,000 bushels of wheat.

Philip Gearhart, long a resident of Clatsop county died at his home on Clatsop plains on the 14th inst., aged 71 years.

The last meeting of Marion county Pomona Grange for 1881, will take place in Grange hall, Salem on Sept. 29th, at which time officers will be chosen for the next year.

The tax levy for Clackamas county for the ensuing year is 21 mills on the dollar, divided as follows: State, 4 mills; insane asylum, 1 mill; war bonds, ¼ mill; school, 3 mills; current expenses of county, 12¾ mills.

McMinnville warehouses are all running up to their fullest capacity, and all have been running more or less both day and night during the past week. Their receipts in the aggregate are probably from 8000 to 10,000 bushels per day.

It is estimated that 27,000 cords of wood have been used this year in making charcoal for the Oswego iron works. About 150 Chinamen are regularly employed in cutting and burning the wood and 30 white men are engaged in hauling it.

The dwelling house of Messrs. Shadrick and Milton Richards, situated about one mile from Miller's mill, on the Nestucca, was burned on the 5th, together with all its contents and appurtenances. The property destroyed, house, shingle shop and tools, a lot of shingles, bolts, etc., eight thousand shingles, household furniture, a good lot of provisions, about all the best clothing belonging to the women and sixty dollars in silver and greenbacks. A box containing a small purse of gold was all that was saved.

Washington Territory.

The catch of the Milton cannery has thus far been light. A heavy run is anticipated in a short time.

Diphtheria has again appeared in Vancouver, and all deaths have resulted from its ravages within the past few days.

D. Shepherd of Washougal has purchased for $2652 the famous A. J. Gillikin ranch in Cowlitz county, which was put up at administrator's sale on Tuesday last. The place will be taken charge of by Mr. Shepherd at once, and will be used for a stock ranch.

The fall term of the Spokan county teachers' institute will convene at Cheney on Tuesday, Sept. 27, and remain in session four days. Teachers having schools in session are expected, as required by law, to adjourn them and take part in the work of the institute.

White river farmers will not obtain a full yield of potatoes this season, owing to the fact that in many places blight has invaded their fields and killed part of their crops. While the blight is not generally prevalent, its presence in many localities will materially reduce the crop this year.

Long & Birmingham, of the White river cheese factory, are running on full time, and turning out a large quantity of cheese. Their factory will close up in about six weeks for the present year. This factory consumes about 6000 pounds of milk daily. Some of the farmers who furnish milk, after their contract with the factory expires, will turn their attention to making butter, claiming that there is more money in it for them.

Several hundred persons in the northwestern precincts of Yakima county have signed a petition asking the incoming legislature to create the county of Kittitas, the lines of which will be the Cascade mountains on the west, the Columbia river on the east the Wenatchee river on the north, and the Natches and the survey line between townships 14 and 15 on the south. These limits include an area of about 4000 square miles, the centre of which is the beautiful valley of Kittitas, other precincts being Swauk, Peshastin, Wenatchie, Wenas, Upper Natches and Upper Yakima. Ellensburg aspires to the honors and emoluments of county seat, and in case of the petition's granting will undoubtedly receive them. In fact the petition asks the location of the seat at that place. The interests of the new county will be quite diverse, consisting at present almost equally of agriculture, quartz mining, lumbering and miscellaneous pursuits, nearly one-fourth of the population being engaged in each.

Eastern Oregon.

The county commissioners fixed the tax levy for county purposes at 15 mills on the dollar, making the total levy 23 mills. This is 4.4 mills less than last year.

"Mrs. Grundy" writes from Saratoga: "Four senatorial widowers have been here at once. David Davis of Illinois, Jones of Florida, and the Rhode Island twins, Anthony and Burnside. The two latter are so devotedly inseparable as ever, and are as rarely seen apart as when they are in Washington. Burnside was much the best and had been recommended for one, both took sulphur baths at the same time."

Gen. William Birney, of Washington City, is preparing a work on the life and times of James G. Birney, of the rise, growth and success of the anti-slavery movement in the United States. He requests all persons having in their possession letters from James G. Birney, or anti-slavery papers or pamphlets published between 1835 and 1845, to write him giving details.

A few days since a loud noise was heard in the mountain towards the west side of the Bitter Root mountains, the report resembling the firing of cannon and reverberations. It was seen by the tide of a high peak, and was distinctly heard to several miles. Thousands of tons of rock came down in the grand crash.

NEW YORK FREIGHTS AND MARKETS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—The Friday freight market via Cape Horn, although not very much improved, begins to show more life than for a long period, and the ship brokers have brought forth more inquiry from shippers, who as a general thing are making engagements for early shipment. The inquiry is not for any special class of freight, but embraces almost all kinds that go to make up a California cargo nowadays. The movement of agricultural goods this season is likely to be very large, and with early shipments vessels will have prompt dispatch. Rates remain very steady at last quotations. Long voyage tonnage is still very scarce and transactions are for California trade. Railroad freights are quite active and shipments embrace all kinds of goods, including 1000 cases turpentine, 30 bbls baking powders, 75 barrels salt fish, 200 kegs herrings, 35 boxes cheese, 200 cases canned goods, 20 bbls currants, 51 bales coffee, 50 cases bulk, 50 cases cereals, 10 boxes peppersauce, and 25 boxes raisins.

Markets moderately active.

Wheat—Weak at ½@1c lower, and dull; light export demand.

Pork—Dull and lower.

Lard—Unsettled.

Rio Coffee—Dull and steady.

Refined Sugars—In fair demand and firm.

Hides—In better demand at a decline of ½c.

Turpentine—Quiet and lower.

Petroleum—Dull and lower.

The Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, Sept. 16.—This has been another active week in the wool market. Sales were 5,182,000 lbs., of all kinds, making for the past two weeks nearly 11,000,000 pounds that have been disposed of in this market. The demand has been a most exclusively from manufacturers. Some lots have been taken on Philadelphia account, but otherwise there has been little or no speculation. Prices are quite firm and have advanced 1@1½c per pound on fine fleeces. The demand for fine wools has been quite active. Manufacturers have been free purchasers. Sales ranged from 41@43c for X and XX; for Ohio and Pennsylvania, 43@45c; XX and above, including some large lots at the latter rate, and X and XX fleeces, are now firm at 43@45c. Michigan X fleeces, which have been sold to some extent at 40@42c, and one lot at 42½c, are now held at 42@42½c. Medium and No. 1 Ohio have sold at 45@47c, and medium and No. 1 Michigan at 43@45c. In unwashed fleeces sales have been quite large, comprising some 1,350,000 pounds. Full prices as high as 33c for fine unwashed and as high as 34@35c. Medium Colorado carpet wool has been sold to some extent at 18½@20c ⅌ lb. California wool has been in better demand. Sales, 450,000 lbs, full prices. In combing and delaine wool there is a good business doing. Fine delaine is taken as fast as offered at 45@47c, and fine No. 1 combing at 47@49c. Unwashed combing has been selling at 30@32c as to quality. Pulled wools are firm and have been in demand at full prices, from 30@35c for common super, 40@45c good and choice super, 47@50c for very choice super. There have been considerable sales of cape at 30@32c. Montevideo and Mediterranean carpet at full prices. Market was firm at the close with considerable inquiry.

BEERBOHM'S ENGLISH REPORT.

LONDON, Sept. 16.

Floating cargoes—Rather easier.

Cargoes on passage—Rather easier.

Mark Lane—Quiet.

English country markets—Firm.

French country markets—Steady.

Liverpool spot—Slow.

Liverpool quotations—Red American spring No. 2, highest per cental 9s 6d; lowest 9s 1d.

The Liverpool Grain Market.

LIVERPOOL, Sept. 16.—A leading grain circular says the grain trade has been generally quiet. Holders are firm. New home grown foreign wheats in good condition fully maintaining the price. There was fair inquiry for cargoes off coast and on passage. On spot for wheat there was a fair business at Tuesday's prices. Corn is rather firmer. Attendance today was thin and the demand limited. Wheat is rather easier but better at close. Flour inactive and unchanged. Corn with a larger supply lacked demand and receded a penny.

San Francisco Markets.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—Corn is higher, yellow $1 45@1 50.

Potatoes—Early Rose $1@1 50; Petaluma $1 40@1 50; river red $1.

Hops—New, 17@20c; 177 bales of 1,801 for Australia at 13c.

Beans—Firm.

Rice—Advanced; sales in the east [illegible] China $4 40@4 45 for mixed; [illegible] $4 80@4 85; No. 1 China, $5 75@6; No. 2 $5 00@; Hawaiian $5 75.

The Tonnage Situation.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 16.—The Commercial News reviews the freight market of the week has been a quiet one, in spot market, owing to the light supply of disengaged tonnage here, all of which has been taken up during the week, full rates are obtained and there is still an urgent demand for ready tonnage to move the wheat accumulating at tidewater. Market for ships nearly due is firm, and while full rates are offered, owners have such exalted views of the situation here that very little tonnage can be secured. In fact spot rates are scarcely any inducement to foreign owners who have ships due within 30 days.

Chicago Wheat Market.

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Wheat steady at $1 28½ cash; September, $1 30¾; October, $1 33¾; November, $1 35½; December [illegible].

London Wool Sales.

LONDON, Sept. 16.—At the wool sales to-day 11,000 bales were offered, chiefly New Zealand and Sydney. There was fair competition with prices unchanged.

DR. PAUL M. BRENAN,

The Most Successful Physician on the Pacific Coast in the Treatment of ALL CHRONIC & DIFFICULT DISEASES.

DR. BRENAN WILL GUARANTEE TO CURE any form of Disease of the generative organs or private disease. He has become an expert in the treatment of disease, weakness and derangement of the reproductive organs of both male and female, including diseases caused by the

FOLLIES OF YOUTH;

Such as SPERMATORRHEA or SEMINAL WEAKNESS, or LOSS OF PERFECT VITALITY. Nearly two-thirds of all the Chronic Diseases are caused directly or indirectly, from some derangement of these sexual system, and yet this subject is neglected by the majority of the Medical Profession.

I know that persons who are unfortunate enough to be afflicted by any form of sexual disease in secret can rely upon the proper treatment being kept in a sense, on occasion, sometimes from ignorance, and persist those diseases to a fearful state when having become corrupted, their organisms broken down and the hope of future happiness blighted, until they become a victim to the messenger to carry them out of their miserable existence.

Everything strictly confidential under all circumstances.

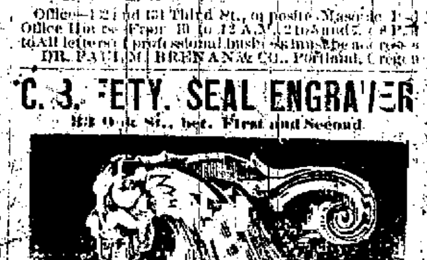

Lost manhood perfectly restored. Catarrh, Bronchitis, Throat Diseases, Skin Diseases, Rheumatism, Kidney Complaint, and all Diseases of the Eye and Ear, Stone and Bladder, he can cure with all faith.

Consultation Free, and a list of printed questions sent to those living at a distance who cannot consult him personally. Enclose postage stamp for list.
